About the Nurse Mentoring Institute
The Nurse Mentoring Institute (NMI) was created by mentoring expert, Dr. Louise Jakubik, PhD, RN-BC, CSP to prepare, support and develop nurses and nursing organizations in practice, education and management roles through the art, science and wonder of mentoring. NMI is committed to furthering state-of-the-art, evidence-based, and outcomes-oriented mentoring for individuals and organizations using Dr. Jakubik’s model of evidence-based mentoring. Furthermore, NMI is dedicated to providing a national forum and voice for nurses in a variety of settings who aim to support and promote mentoring.

About Dr. Jakubik’s Research and Curriculum
Dr. Jakubik is a mentoring thought leader and leading nurse research scientist on mentoring in nursing. Her research agenda has identified specific mentoring practices and their associated mentoring benefits for nurses and their workplaces and an emerging mentoring model to explain how specific mentoring practices promote mentoring benefits. In 2014, NMI launched Dr. Jakubik’s 2-day mentoring immersion program entitled, The Mentoring Difference: An Evidence-Based Approach to Mentoring Nurses. This is a transformational journey to building mentoring culture in nursing through the application of Dr. Jakubik’s evidence-based mentoring practices to individual and workplace behavior. This 2-day mentoring immersion is provided either as a semi-annual national conference (May and November) or on-site at hospitals by invitation for nursing leadership teams. This is the premier program that will ignite and sustain evidence-based mentoring in healthcare organizations. Dr. Jakubik and NMI recognize the value of mentoring across all industries and will be tailoring this program for expansion in 2015 and beyond.

Annual Conference
The Nurse Mentoring Institute’s Annual Conference in November includes student nurses and registered nurses from a variety of specialty areas (e.g. medical-surgical, emergency department, critical care, pediatrics) and practice settings (hospital, academia, and ambulatory). The conference provides updates on cutting-edge nursing career and workforce development. Leaders in mentoring from across the United States present cutting-edge mentoring content applicable to nursing students and nurses at all experience levels. Additionally, there is ample opportunity to network with fellow colleagues in nurse mentoring from across the country and to receive invaluable onsite coaching sessions with NMI’s expert mentors.

Mentoring Products
NMI offers an array of mentoring products to support and enhance building a corporate brand around the importance and value of mentoring in nursing and to building a mentoring culture. Create team spirit, reward team members, and remind your team of the value that mentoring provides for individual career and workplace leadership development and succession planning. Dr. Jakubik and Ms. Sandy Fasold, Owner/Designer of Toria Designs Jewelry, have designed and launched a line of jewelry that recognizes the importance of mentors and mentoring while blending their passions for beautiful things and beautiful people, called The Mentoring Difference (TMD) Jewelry.

Mentoring’s Impact
